CHILD SUPPORT MODIFICATION INFORMATION AND INSTRUCTIONS

CONFIDENTIALITY: If you have concerns about keeping information confidential, such as your address and/or social security number, please consult an attorney. You should also know that Domestic Violence Protection Orders or Stalking Orders are available free of charge at the circuit court clerks' offices. You may request assistance in obtaining Domestic Violence Protection or Stalking Orders from your local domestic violence or sexual assault program or you may call the Wyoming Coalition Against Domestic Violence & Sexual Assault (844) 264-8080 (toll free) or (307) 755-0992. There are also private attorneys who may be willing to assist clients in these matters. If you have ever obtained a Protection Order against the other party, this information should be indicated in the Petition for Modification of Child Support and Judgment for Arrears (If Any).

NOTE: The person who files the Petition for Modification of Child Support and Judgment for Arrears (If Any) is called the Petitioner regardless of whether you were the Petitioner or the Respondent when the child support order was first entered. The other party will be referred to as the "Respondent."

This packet is to modify child support only. If you are modifying custody, visitation or parenting time with your children, a separate packet is available.

Before filling out the forms, make sure you meet the qualifications to file for Modification of Child Support and Judgment for Arrears (If Any) in Wyoming. To file a petition, one of the following conditions must apply:

1. Twenty (20%) percent change in support amount after six (6) months. If your current child support order was entered more than six months ago or has not been adjusted within the past six months, you may request a review. The court may modify the order if it determines that the support amount would increase or decrease by 20% or more per month from the existing order.
2. Substantial Change in Circumstances (At Any Time). A modification can be requested at any time if there has been a substantial change in circumstances. This includes but is not limited to:
 - Receiving public assistance (e.g., Personal Opportunities with Employment Responsibilities (POWER), Title 19, Kid Care, food stamps, Supplemental Security Income (SSI)).
 - Significant changes, such as custody modifications.

Note: If you are requesting both a change in custody and child support, you should use the Custody Modification Packet or consult an attorney for guidance.

3. Every three (3) years. Every three years, upon request, the court is required to review and, if appropriate, adjust the child support order. There is no need for a showing of a change of circumstances if it has been at least three years since the previous child support order was entered.

Important Note:

If one of the children included in your current child support order graduates, turns 18, or is otherwise emancipated, child support does not automatically reduce. You must file a request to modify the child support order using this packet if you want the support amount changed. Until the Court enters a new order, the full amount in the existing order remains enforceable.

If your situation fits one of the categories described above, you may move forward with this packet.

Make sure to complete all the forms carefully. If any parts are left blank, the Judge may not accept them. Not all of the forms need to be completed at the same time. Read through the instructions for each step. There are some steps you must complete before moving on to the next step.

Step 1: Getting Started

Not all the forms in this packet may be needed for your specific situation. It's important to go through them and read the instructions to know which ones you need.

Start by reviewing these three forms below:

1. Familiarize yourself with the List of Forms – Petitioner Modification of Child Support and Judgment for Arrears (If Any): Look at the list of all the forms included in this packet.
2. Go through the Checklist for Petitioner Modification of Child Support and Judgment for Arrears (If Any): This checklist will help you understand which forms you need to complete and file.
3. Review the Petitioner Child Support Modification Information and Instructions: This form provides detailed information and instructions for modifying child support.

By reviewing these documents first, you will have a better idea of the process for modifying child support.

Step 2: File your petition

Documents to Complete:

1. Complete the Petition for Child Support Modification and Judgment Arrears (If Any): The first step in starting a child support modification case is to file a Petition for Child Support Modification and Judgment Arrears (If Any). This is a written request to the Court for a modification of child support. The person who starts the files the Petition is called the Petitioner and will be the Petitioner throughout the case.

NOTE: Do not sign the Petition for Child Support Modification and Judgment Arrears (If Any) until you are in front of the Clerk of Court or a Notary. The Clerk or the Notary must witness you signing the form. Since each Clerk's office has its own rules, check with them first to see if they can notarize your signature before looking for a notary public elsewhere.

2. Complete the Confidential Statement of the Parties for Child Support Order: This form provides the Court with required personal information, like social security numbers and birth dates. The information will be kept confidential, so the public cannot see it.
3. Complete the Summons: Complete the top section of page 1 of the Summons. This includes: the county, the judicial district, the names of the Petitioner and Respondent, and the Respondent's contact information. The Clerk of Court will complete the rest of the document and issue the Summons.

Number of Copies:

Take the original and two copies of each document to the Clerk's office. The Clerk will stamp all the copies with the date they were filed. This is called a "file stamp." The original document will be filed with the Clerk. You should keep one copy for your records, and the other copy will need to be served on the Respondent.

Where to File:

You will file your case only with the Clerk of District Court's Office where the original order for Child Support was entered. You'll usually find their office in the county courthouse or a branch of the courthouse. You can find a list of court locations on the Wyoming Judicial Branch website. <https://www.wyocourts.gov/find-a-court/>

File Your Documents:

1. Bring the original and two copies of the follow documents to the Clerk of District Court:
 1. Petition for Child Support Modification and Judgment Arrears (If Any)
 2. Confidential Statement of the Parties for Child Support Order
 3. Summons
2. Pay the Filing Fee. A filing fee is required to open case. Ask the Clerk about the amount and acceptable forms of payment. If you cannot afford the filing fee, you may want to review Family Law Packet 10, which includes information about requesting a waiver of filing fees.

NOTE: You will need to use the same case number assigned to the original child support order. You must include that case number on all further paperwork in the "caption." The caption is the top section of a pleading, motion, or petition stating the name of the Petitioner, Respondent, Court and the case number.

Step 3: Serve the Respondent

The other party, the person you are filing for a child support modification against, is called the Respondent, and they will stay the Respondent throughout the case. The Respondent may or may not respond to the Petition for Child Support Modification and Judgment Arrears (If Any) by filing a Response.

After you file your case with the Clerk of District Court, a file-stamped copy of the paperwork must be formally given to the Respondent. This is called serving the papers. You do this by serving a file-stamped copy of the Summons, the Petition for Child Support Modification and Judgment Arrears (If Any), and the Confidential Statement of the Parties for Child Support Order to the Respondent, or by having the Respondent sign an Acknowledgment and Acceptance of Service form. This proves to the Court that the Respondent received the papers. You must have the Respondent served within 90 days from the date you filed the Petition for Child Support Modification and Judgment Arrears (If Any). If you don't serve the Respondent within 90 days, the court may dismiss your case.

How to Serve the Respondent: Choose ONE of these options:

Option 1: Service by Sheriff

It's usually best to have a Sheriff in the county where the Respondent lives serve the papers. In Wyoming this service typically costs around $50. You can contact the Sheriff's department in the county where the Respondent will be served to find out what fees will be charged for service. Provide the Sheriff with the file-stamped Summons, Petition for Child Support Modification and Judgment Arrears (If Any), and Confidential Statement of the Parties for Child Support Order. The Sheriff will complete a form called the "Return" or an "Affidavit of Service" and file the original with the Clerk. Either the Sheriff's office or the Clerk will give you a copy.

NOTE: If you receive the original return, call the Clerk's office to check if it has been filed. If it hasn't, you MUST file it with the Clerk yourself.

Option 2: Acknowledgement and Acceptance of Service:

If the Respondent agrees, they can sign a form saying they received the papers. Complete an Acknowledgment and Acceptance of Service and give it to the Respondent along with a file-stamped copy of the Petition for Child Support Modification and Judgment Arrears, Summons, and Confidential Statement of the Parties for Child Support Order. The Respondent will need to sign the Acknowledgment and Acceptance of Service in front of a notary.

After the Respondent has signed the Acknowledgment and Acceptance of Service, you will need to make two copies.

Take the original and the two copies of the Acknowledgment and Acceptance of Service and the Summons to the Clerk's office. The Clerk will file stamp all of the documents and keep the original to file in the case. Keep one copy for yourself and give one copy to the Respondent.

Proof of Service: The Court needs to receive proof that the Respondent was properly served. This can be done in two ways: 1) either the Sheriff sends the original return directly to the Court, or you file it yourself, or 2) if the Respondent agrees, you or the Respondent can file a signed Acknowledgment and Acceptance of Service signed by the Respondent and the original Summons. This ensures the Judge knows the Respondent received the papers.

NOTE: There are other ways to serve the papers, but these two are the easiest. If you can't serve the Respondent using these methods, or if you can't find the Respondent to have them served. There are also additional forms and instructions for other types of service in Family Law Packet 10 on the Wyoming Judicial Branch website or at the Clerk of District Court's office.

STOP- WAIT FOR RESPONDENT'S RESPONSE

Information on Respondent's time to Response:

After serving the Respondent, they have a certain amount of time to respond to the Petition for Child Support Modification and Judgment Arrears. If they were served in Wyoming, they have 20 days to respond. If they were served out-of-state, they have 30 days to respond. You must wait for this time to pass before moving forward with the case, even if the Respondent says they won't respond.

How Time is Calculated:

- When counting the days, don't include the day the papers were served.
- Include the last day of the time period, unless it falls on a Saturday, Sunday, or legal holiday. In that case, the deadline moves to the next business day.

NOTE: While you wait, you can move on to Step 4 and start working on your Initial Disclosures.

Step 4: Initial Disclosures

DO NOT FILE INITIAL DISCLOSURES WITH THE CLERK OF DISTRICT COURT

Send Initial Disclosures Directly to the Other Party:

The law requires you to share certain information with the other party within 30 days after the Respondent's Response is due. You need to provide a list of financial assets, non-financial assets, all debts (individual and joint), locations of any safety deposit boxes, employment details, information about other income and retirement accounts, and a summary of facts supporting your claim for custody (if child custody is involved). Both parties must provide this information to ensure full financial information is provided for calculating child support. Be sure to keep a copy of your Initial Disclosures for your records.

NOTE: You must share the information you currently have available to you. You cannot wait to provide your disclosures because you think the other party's information is incomplete or because they haven't provided their information yet.

When to Provide:

You need to give your Initial Disclosures to the Respondent (or their lawyer) within 30 days after the Respondent is supposed to respond to your Petition. Here's how to figure out the date:

1. Start with the date the Respondent was served with the Petition: _____
2. Next, figure out when the Respondent has to file a Response: (Choose One)
 - a) If they were served in Wyoming, add 20 days to the date in #1: _____
 - OR
 - b) If they signed an Acknowledgment and Acceptance of Service, add 20 days to the date in #1: _____
 - OR
 - c) If they were served out-of-state, add 30 days to the date in #1: _____
3. Add 30 days to the date in #2(a), (b), or (c): _____

The date from #3 is when you and the Respondent must send each other your completed Initial Disclosures.

DO NOT FILE THE INITIAL DISCLOSURES WITH THE COURT. These forms are only given to the Respondent (or their lawyer).

Step 5: Moving Your Case Forward

Once the time for the Respondent to respond has passed and you've sent your Initial Disclosures, there are several options to move your case forward to get a Modification of your Child Support Order.

Choose the Best Option for Your Situation:

Option A: If the Respondent filed a Response or Response and Counterclaim, and you both agree on everything, follow Option A.

Option B: If the Respondent DID NOT file a Response or Response and Counterclaim, follow Option B.

Option C: If the Respondent filed a Response or Response and Counterclaim, but you don't agree on everything, follow Option C.

Here are some important laws and helpful hints regarding child support for all cases:

Important Child Support Laws:

- a) Recipients of certain public benefits. If either parent or the child(ren) are receiving public benefits—such as Personal Opportunities with Employment Responsibilities (POWER) or other state-funded programs—Wyoming law requires that the right to collect child support be assigned to the Department of Family Services (DFS). The recipient must also cooperate with DFS in establishing paternity and support obligations. Any proposed child support changes may affect the public benefits received, so it's important to consult with your DFS caseworker or local child support enforcement office if public assistance is involved. See W.S. § 20-6-105.
- b) Military Personnel. If either parent is in the military, child support is generally calculated using basic pay only. Military regulations prohibit using active duty as a means to avoid support obligations, although determining the correct amount remains a civilian court issue. Up-to-date information on military pay can be found at www.dfas.mil, and additional guidance for military families is available at <https://acf.gov/css/outreach-material/handbook-military-families>.
- c) Overtime Income. Overtime compensation is generally not included in calculating net income for child support unless the Court finds that such earnings have been received consistently over the previous 24 months and are likely to continue.
- d) Income Withholding Order. The Court will issue an Income Withholding Order (IWO) that allows child support payments to be taken directly from the paying parent's wages. This takes effect immediately unless both parents agree in writing to an alternative payment method or the Court finds good cause to delay withholding. If child support becomes delinquent by an amount equal to one month's obligation, the IWO becomes active regardless of any alternative arrangement.
- e) Limits on Wage Withholding. The amount withheld from a parent's paycheck for child support is subject to federal limits under the Consumer Credit Protection Act (CCPA). Generally, no more than 50% of disposable income may be withheld if the parent supports another family, or 60% if not. These limits may increase by 5% if the parent owes more than 12 weeks of past-due support.
- f) Social Security and Veteran's Benefits. If the children receive part of the noncustodial parent's Social Security or veteran's benefits directly, that amount is counted as part of the noncustodial parent's gross income. The amount received by the custodian is then subtracted from the calculated support obligation. If the result is zero or negative, the child support obligation may be reduced accordingly. See W.S. § 20-2-304(e).
- g) Start Date for New Support Amounts. Modifications to child support are not retroactive unless the parties agree otherwise in writing, or unless a petition for modification has been served and is pending. In that case, changes may apply starting from the date the Respondent was served. See W.S. § 20-2-311(d).

- h) Termination of Support Obligation: An ongoing child support obligation ends when any of the following occur: (1) the child dies, (2) the child becomes legally emancipated, (3) the child reaches the age of majority (18), unless they are still in high school full-time or disabled, or (4) the parents remarry each other, in which case the Court may also eliminate any arrears not owed to the state.

Child Support Payments

You need to figure out how much child support is due based on the Confidential Financial Affidavits you and the Respondent completed (or by using the Affidavit of Imputed Income if the Respondent didn't complete their own Confidential Financial Affidavit). You can use the Child Support Computation Form to help you calculate the support due or contact your local child support agency for help. Another option is to go online to <https://childsupport.wyoming.gov/calculator/index.html> and use the online tool to calculate child support.

Important Points to Remember:

- a) You can't agree to no support: You CANNOT agree that no child support will be paid. (The only time the Court will not order child support is when the noncustodial parent's income is less than the self-support reserve.) Wyoming law allows for a reduced amount of support if you agree on joint physical custody, each parent keeps the children overnight for more than 25% of the year, and both parents contribute significantly to the children's expenses in addition to paying child support.
- b) Self-Support Reserve: If the noncustodial parent's net income minus the self-support reserve is less than the support obligation calculated from the tables in W.S. § 20-2-304(a), the support obligation will be based on the difference between the noncustodial parent's net income and the self-support reserve. The "self-support reserve" is the current poverty line for one person and is updated annually in the Federal Register by the U.S. Department of Health and Human Services. See W.S. § 20-2-304(f). You can also find the current self-support reserve by going to <https://www.wyocourts.gov/self-help-forms/> and clicking on the Family Law tab.
- c) No Deviations Allowed: There are NO DEVIATIONS from the presumed support amount unless the Court decides that the set amount is unjust or inappropriate in your specific case. The Court must include specific reasons for any deviation in the Order.
- d) Government or State Benefits: NO AGREEMENTS for less than the presumed support can be approved if government or state benefits (such as Title 19, Kid Care, Food Stamps, Personal Opportunities with Employment Responsibilities (POWER), etc.) are being provided on behalf of any child. This means the Court cannot lower the amount of child support calculated using the net income of you and the Respondent, even if both of you agree to a lower amount of support.

Medical Support

The law requires that medical support for the children be included in any child support order. The Court may order one or both parents to provide medical insurance if it is available at a reasonable cost and can be used for the children. This includes dental, vision, or other health care needs.

Additionally, the Court will decide who pays for medical expenses not covered by insurance and any deductibles. If both parents must pay for these expenses, the Court will specify how much each parent is responsible for (for example, 50% to Petitioner and 50% to Respondent).

Important Definitions

- a) Obligor – The parent who is legally required to pay child support.
- b) Custodial Parent – The parent with whom the children live primarily.
- c) Noncustodial Parent – The parent who does not have primary physical custody of the children, typically responsible for paying support.
- d) Payor – Any employer or entity that pays income to the obligor and may also provide health insurance coverage.
- e) Arrearage – Unpaid past-due child support, medical support, or court-ordered fees. This may include interest or penalties but does not include property settlements.
- f) Gross Income – All income from any source, including wages, commissions, retirement, disability, military pay, and bonuses, before any deductions.
- g) Net Income – Also called “disposable income.” This is gross income minus mandatory deductions such as:
 - a. Federal and state income tax,
 - b. Social Security (FICA),
 - c. Court-ordered health insurance for the children,
 - d. Other legally required deductions (e.g., mandatory retirement or disability contributions).
- h) Imputed Income – An estimated income amount assigned by the Court when a parent is voluntarily unemployed or underemployed. The Court may consider work history, education, job availability, local wages, and childcare responsibilities.

- i) Self-Support Reserve – The minimum amount of income a noncustodial parent is allowed to retain for their own basic needs. This amount is based on the federal poverty level for one person and is updated annually by the U.S. Department of Health and Human Services.
- j) Disposable Income – The amount remaining after subtracting mandatory deductions from gross income. This is the income used to calculate how much can be withheld for child support.
- k) Age of Majority – In Wyoming, this is 18 years old. However, support may continue beyond age 18 if the child:
 - a. Is attending high school full-time and under 20 years old, or
 - b. Has a mental or physical disability preventing self-support.

Option A. The following instructions apply if the Respondent filed a Response or Response and Counterclaim, and you both agree on all of the issues of your case.

Documents to Complete:

1. Confidential Financial Affidavit with all required documents attached.

Both parties must complete and file a Confidential Financial Affidavit with the Court, along with any required documents. You must provide documents that prove your current and past earnings. For current earnings, include pay stubs, employer statements, or receipts and expenses if self-employed. Also, attach your most recent tax return to show your earnings over a longer period. Include income tax returns for the last two years and your latest pay stub(s) to show your current earnings. If you and the other party filed a joint tax return, and the other party has already submitted the required tax returns, you don't need to file them again. If you have health insurance, include copies of your insurance cards.

NOTE: If the Respondent does not file a Confidential Financial Affidavit, then you must complete and file an Affidavit of Imputed Income to show the Court how much money the Respondent earns.

- 2. Order Modifying Child Support and Judgment for Arrears (If Any). This form will need to be filled out completely, signed by both you and the Respondent and both of your signatures must be notarized. In addition to signing the Order, you should also initial each page of the Order to verify that each page contains the terms you agreed upon.
- 3. Order for Income Withholding. The Court is required by law to enter an Order for Income Withholding in every case where child support has been ordered.
- 4. Income Withholding for Support. Use this form if you want child support to be paid directly from the non-custodial parent's employer. If you need help filling out the form or collecting child support, contact the child support enforcement agency in your district. The Clerk can give you their contact information or you can find it online at <https://childsupport.wyo.gov/>.

Copies and Envelopes

Bring the original and two copies of each document to file with the Clerk. Also, bring two addressed, stamped envelopes (one addressed to you, and one addressed to the Respondent), with enough postage to mail the Order to both of you.

NOTE: Any documents you file (except the Order) must be sent to the Respondent on the same date that you put on the Certificate of Service on each document.

If a Hearing is Required:

If a hearing is NOT required by your Court, the Clerk will mail a copy of your Order (to both parties) if accepted by the Court.

NOTE: It is important to keep the Court updated with any changes in contact information, especially mailing addresses

In some cases, a hearing is required before the Judge will sign the Order. If a hearing is required, follow these steps:

1. Complete the Request for Setting.
This form is a request to the Court for a hearing. If you and the Respondent have reached an agreement, check the box that indicates this. Specify how much time you will need for the hearing (usually 15 minutes if there is an agreement).
2. Complete the Order Setting Hearing.
Complete the top section of page one of the Order Setting Hearing. This includes: the county, the judicial district, the names of the Petitioner and Respondent, and the civil action case number. The Clerk of District Court will complete the rest of the document.
3. File the Request for Setting and Order Setting Hearing and provide the Clerk with two addressed, stamped envelopes (one for you and one for the Respondent).

NOTE: The Court will fill in the hearing date and time and mail a copy to you and the Respondent.

Evidence at the Hearing:

At the hearing, you need to tell the Judge:

1. That you meet the requirements for a modification of a child support order;
2. That you have calculated child support based on the net income of the parties; and
3. Whether or not the children are receiving public benefits.

The Judge may ask you questions but will not guide you through the hearing, give you legal advice, or tell you what to say or how to present your evidence. After the hearing, the Judge will make any necessary changes to the Order and sign it.

When Will Your Child Support be Modified?

Your Order modifying child support is not final until the Judge signs the Order, and it is filed with the Clerk. This may take time if the Judge needs to make changes to the Order. Check with the Clerk to make sure the Order has been file-stamped before you can be sure your child support is modified. You should receive a copy of the Order once it is final.

Option B. If the Respondent does not file a Response or Response and Counterclaim, obtain a default Order by following these steps:

A default occurs when one party files for modification, but the other does not respond within the required time. As a result, the Court may grant the modification based on the filing party's terms without the other party's input.

Default: If the Respondent does NOT file a Response or Response and Counterclaim to the Petition for Child Support Modification and Judgment Arrears (If Any) by the deadline, you can get a default entered against them.

Documents to Complete:

1. Application for Entry of Default
2. Affidavit in Support of Default
3. Entry of Default

Copies and Envelopes:

Complete and sign the Application for Entry of Default and the Affidavit in Support of Default and take the original and two copies of these documents to the Clerk along with Entry of Default. Complete the top section of the Entry of Default. This includes the county, the judicial district, the names of the Petitioner and Respondent. If your paperwork is correct, the Clerk will sign the Entry of Default.

Documents to Complete After the Entry of Default is Signed by the Clerk:

1. Confidential Financial Affidavit (attach all required documents).

You must complete and file a Confidential Financial Affidavit with the Court, along with any required documents. You must provide documents that prove your current and past earnings. For current earnings, include pay stubs, employer statements, or receipts and expenses if self-employed. Also, attach your most recent tax return to show your earnings over a longer period. Include income tax returns for the last two years and your latest pay stub(s) to show your current earnings. If you and the other party filed a joint tax return, and the other party has already submitted the required tax returns, you don't need to file them again. If you have health insurance, include copies of your insurance cards.

NOTE: If the Respondent does not file a Confidential Financial Affidavit, then you must complete and file an Affidavit of Imputed Income to show the Court how much money the Respondent earns.

2. Order Modifying Child Support and Judgment for Arrears (If Any). Make sure to complete this form completely, check the box for "Default," and have the document notarized.
3. Order for Income Withholding. The Court is required by law to enter an Order for Income Withholding in every case where child support has been ordered.
4. Income Withholding for Support. Use this form if you want child support to be paid directly from the non-custodial parent's employer. If you need help filling out the form or collecting child support, contact the child support enforcement agency in your district. The Clerk can give you their contact information or you can find it online at <https://childdsupport.wyo.gov/>.

Copies and Envelopes

Bring the original and two copies of each document to file with the Clerk. Also, bring two addressed, stamped envelopes (one addressed to you and one addressed to the Respondent), with enough postage to mail the Order to both of you.

NOTE: Any documents you file (except the Order) must be sent to the Respondent on the same date that you put on the Certificate of Service on each document.

If a Hearing is Required:

If a hearing is NOT required by your Court, the Clerk will mail a copy of your Order (to both parties) if accepted by the Court.

In some cases, a hearing is required before the Judge will sign the Order. If a hearing is required, follow these steps:

1. Complete the Request for Setting.
This form is a request to the Court for a hearing. Specify how much time you will need for the hearing (usually 15 minutes if there is an agreement).
2. Complete the Order Setting Hearing.
Complete the top section of page one of the Order Setting Hearing. This includes: the county, the judicial district, the names of the Petitioner and Respondent, and the civil action case number. The Clerk of District Court will complete the rest of the document.
3. File the Request for Setting and Order Setting Hearing and provide the Clerk with two addressed, stamped envelopes (one for you and one for the Respondent).

NOTE: The Court will fill in the hearing date and time and mail a copy to you and the Respondent.

Evidence at the Hearing:

At the hearing, you need to tell the Judge:

1. That you meet the requirements for a modification of a child support order;
2. That you have calculated child support based on the net income of the parties; and
3. Whether or not the children are receiving public benefits.

The Judge may ask you questions but will not guide you through the hearing, give you legal advice, or tell you what to say or how to present your evidence. After the hearing, the Judge will make any necessary changes to the Order and sign it.

When Will Your Child Support be Modified?

Your Order modifying child support is not final until the Judge signs the Order, and it is filed with the Clerk. This may take time if the Judge needs to make changes to the Order. Check with the Clerk to make sure the Order has been file-stamped before you can be sure your child support is modified. You should receive a copy of the Order once it is final.

Option C. If the Respondent filed a Response or Response and Counterclaim, and you and the Respondent do NOT agree on all issues of your case, you will need to have a trial:

NOTE: If there is no agreement, your case will have to be heard and decided by a Judge at a trial.

CAUTION: It is strongly recommended that you hire or find an attorney to represent you at trial, though you may represent yourself. If you choose to represent yourself, you proceed at your own risk and will be expected to know the law and follow the court rules.

Documents to Complete:

1. Reply to the Counterclaim.

If the Respondent files a Response and Counterclaim, you have a time limit (usually 20 days) to file a written response, called a Reply to Counterclaim. You must file the original signed copy with the Clerk and send a copy to the Respondent (or their attorney).

NOTE: If you do not file the original Reply to Counterclaim with the Clerk within the time allowed, the Respondent can seek a default against you and may get what they asked for in their Counterclaim.

2. Complete the Request for Setting.

This form is a request to the Court for a hearing. Write in “trial” where it asks the type of hearing. Indicate how much time you think it will take for you and the other party to present your evidence and write that in (usually one to three hours).

3. Complete the Order Setting Modification Trial.

Complete the top section of page one of the Order Setting Modification Trial. This includes the county, the judicial district, the names of the Petitioner and Respondent, and the civil action case number. The Clerk of District Court will complete the rest of the document. Unless the Court says otherwise, you must follow Rule 26.1 of the Wyoming Rules of Civil Procedure.

4. Provide the Clerk with two addressed, postage paid envelopes (one for you and one for the Respondent).

5. Confidential Financial Affidavit and attach all required documents.

Both parties must complete and file a Confidential Financial Affidavit with the Court, along with any required documents. You must provide documents that prove your current and past earnings. For current earnings, include pay stubs, employer statements, or receipts and expenses if self-employed. Also, attach your most recent tax return to show your earnings over a longer period. Include income tax returns for the last two years and your latest pay stub(s) to show your current earnings. If you and the other party filed a joint tax return, and the other party has already submitted the required tax returns, you don't need to file them again. If you have health insurance, include copies of your insurance cards.

NOTE: If the Respondent does not file a Confidential Financial Affidavit, then you must complete and file an Affidavit of Imputed Income to show the Court how much money the Respondent earns.

5. Order for Income Withholding. The Court is required by law to enter an Order for Income Withholding in every case where child support has been ordered.
6. Income Withholding for Support. Use this form if you want child support to be paid directly from the non-custodial parent's employer. If you need help filling out the form or collecting child support, contact the child support enforcement agency in your district. The Clerk can give you their contact information or you can find it online at <https://childdsupport.wyo.gov/>.

NOTE: Any documents you file (except the Order) must be sent to the Respondent on the same day you put the date on the Certificate of Service on each document.

Due 30 Days Before Trial:

1. Complete Pretrial Disclosures

Both parties must give their Pretrial Disclosures to each other and file them with the Court. These disclosures list the evidence that will be presented at trial. If you have questions, contact an attorney.

Note: Unless the Court says otherwise, they must be made at least 30 days before the trial.

2. Take the original and two copies to the Clerk for filing. Keep one copy for your records and send the other copy to the Respondent (or their attorney).

Trial Information:

Settlement Before Trial:

If you settle your case before trial, you must file a completed and signed Order Modifying Child Support and Judgment for Arrears (If Any) with the Court. The trial will only be canceled once this is done.

The trial date will not be changed or canceled based on phone calls. If you need to reschedule the trial, you must file a motion to continue or contact an attorney for assistance.

Court Reporter:

It is very difficult to appeal the Judge's decision if you do not get a court reporter to record everything that is said at the trial.

If you want a court reporter, you must notify the official court reporter as soon as possible, but no later than three working days before your hearing. You can do this by phone, email or by submitting a written request. If you send the request by mail, it must be received by the court reporter at least three working days before the hearing.

Contact information for each Court Reporter can be found on the Wyoming Judicial Branch website.

The Clerk can tell you which court reporter to contact. The Court will not waive the three-day notice requirement. This notice is required for all civil matters, including jury trials.

Evidence and Witnesses:

At the hearing, you will need to present your evidence and witnesses. If the Order Setting Modification Trial is entered (signed by the Judge), you must follow the terms and provide the Court with the information requested in that document, including copies of exhibits you want to introduce at the trial and a list of your proposed witnesses and what their testimony is going to be about within the time frame ordered (usually three to five days prior to the trial). Under the law, the Judge cannot help you or assist you at trial.

NOTE: If you choose to represent yourself at trial and continue without an attorney, you proceed at your own risk and will be expected to know the laws and court rules.

Final Decision:

After the trial, the Judge will make a decision or may need more time to think about it. If the Judge gives you instructions, you must type the decision into the Order.

When Will Your Child Support be Modified?

Your Order modifying child support is not final until the Judge signs the Order, and it is filed with the Clerk. This may take time if the Judge needs to make changes to the Order. Check with the Clerk to make sure the Order has been file-stamped before you can be sure your child support is modified. You should receive a copy of the Order once it is final.

PETITION FOR MODIFICATION OF CHILD SUPPORT AND JUDGMENT FOR ARREARS (IF ANY)

I am the Petitioner.

I am asking the Court to modify (change) an existing Child Support Order and, if needed, issue a judgment for any unpaid child support (arrear). In support of this request, I state the following:

1. I am the:

☐ custodial parent.
☐ non-custodial parent.
2. I am a resident of _____ County in the State of _____.
3. The original (first) Child Support Order was made by the _____ Court in _____ County in the State of _____.
4. ☐ The original Child Support Order was never modified (changed).

OR

☐ The original Child Support Order has been modified (changed). The most recent modification was by the _____ Court in _____ County in the State of _____.

5. I believe this Court is allowed to modify this Order because: (Select all that apply)

- ☐ The children live in Wyoming.
- ☐ I live in Wyoming.
- ☐ The Respondent lives in Wyoming.
- ☐ The Child Support Order from a different state has been registered in Wyoming.

Important Note: If none of the above are true, you might not be able to ask a Wyoming court to modify your Child Support Order. You might choose to get legal advice to learn about your options.

Information About Children

The most recent Child Support Order is about the following minor children:

Child's initials (Do not write full name):

_____ (For example, John Bob Doe would be J.B.D.)

Child's year of birth: 20 _____

Child's residence for the past 5 years:

Information About the Current Court Order

6. The date on the current Order (either the original Order or the most recent modification) is:

_____ (The date will probably be somewhere near the top of the first page of the Order.)

7. This is what the current Order says about child support:

- ☐ Nothing because child support was not Ordered.
- ☐ The non-custodial parent is required to pay $_____ per month as child support. The next payment is due on _____, 20__.
- ☐ The non-custodial parent is required to pay $_____ per month in arrears (child support payments that were not made on time). The next payment is due on _____, 20__.

8. On the day I'm filing this Petition:

- ☐ The non-custodial parent does not owe any unpaid child support because the parent is current on payments or was not Ordered to make payments.

OR

- ☐ The non-custodial parent is in arrears (owes unpaid child support). The total amount that was already due but has not been paid is $_____. I would like the Court to enter a judgment against the non-custodial parent for this amount plus any additional amounts that may accrue (add up) before an Order is entered in this action.

- ☐ I have attached to this Petition a copy of the payment record from the Clerk of District Court or the Child Support Program.

9. This is what the current Order says about medical insurance:

- ☐ The custodial parent is required to provide medical insurance for the children.
- ☐ The non-custodial parent is required to provide medical insurance for the children.
- ☐ Neither party is required to provide medical insurance for the children.

10. ☐ One of the parents is required to provide medical insurance, and

- ☐ that parent does provide medical insurance as Ordered.
- ☐ that parent does not provide medical insurance as Ordered.

11. This is what the current Order says about uncovered (out-of-pocket) medical expenses:

- ☐ The custodial parent is required to pay ____% of uncovered medical expenses and the non-custodial parent is required to pay ____%.
- ☐ The current Order doesn't say anything about uncovered medical expenses.

12. ☐ All uncovered medical expenses have been paid in the way the current Order requires.

OR

- ☐ The custodial parent owes $_____ in uncovered medical expenses. I would like the Court to enter a judgment against the custodial parent for this amount plus any additional amounts that may accrue (add up) before an Order is entered in this action.

☐ I have attached bills and receipts that explain these uncovered medical expenses.

- ☐ The non-custodial parent owes $_____ in uncovered medical expenses. I would like the Court to enter a judgment against the non-custodial parent for this amount plus any additional amounts that may accrue (add up) before an Order is entered in this action.

☐ I have attached bills and receipts that explain these uncovered medical expenses.

13. ☐ Neither party has been Ordered to provide medical insurance. I am asking the Court to Order that medical insurance be provided by:

☐ me.

☐ the Respondent.

14. ☐ The current Order doesn't say anything about uncovered medical expenses. I am asking the Court to Order that all expenses not covered by insurance be divided in the following manner:

_____ % to be paid by me.

_____ % to be paid by the Respondent.

Reason For Modification Request

15. I am asking for a modification of the Child Support Order because:

☐ The current Child Support Order was issued more than six months ago, and I believe the monthly child support amount, calculated using the guidelines in Wyoming Statute 20-2-304, will now be at least 20% different (either higher or lower) than the amount required in the current Order.

☐ It has been at least three years since the Court last reviewed the child support amount. I am asking the Court to adjust the amount according to the current child support guidelines.

☐ Since the current Order was issued, there has been a substantial change in circumstances that justifies modifying at least one of the child support and medical support and insurance obligations. The following circumstances have changed since the current Ordered was issued. (Select all that apply.)

☐ One or more children are no longer owed support because they have been emancipated or have reached the age of majority. ("Age of majority" means a person who is 18 years old, but for child support purposes, a parent's obligation may continue beyond this age if the child is mentally or physically disabled and unable to support themselves, or is between the age of 18 and 20 and is attending high school or an equivalent program full-time.)

☐ The net income of one or both parents has substantially changed. ("Net income" is the income remaining after money is taken out for personal income taxes, social security, the cost of health care coverage for all dependent children, payments made under existing support Orders for other children, other current court-Ordered obligations, and mandatory pension deductions. Payments towards child support arrears are not deducted when calculating net income.)

☐ The financial needs of the children have increased due to age or changes in the cost of living.

☐ The obligations of the parties to provide medical support and the rights of the children to receive medical support require review and modification.

☐ Other: (Please describe)

WHEREFORE, the Petitioner respectfully requests:

1. The parties be Ordered to complete and file Confidential Financial Affidavits as required by Wyoming Statute 20-2-308.
2. The Court review the Child Support Order and modify it to an amount consistent with the Wyoming Child Support Guidelines.
3. If applicable, the Court review and modify the medical insurance obligation and the allocation of costs not covered by medical insurance.
4. If applicable, the Court enter a judgment for child support arrears (unpaid child support) and for unpaid medical expenses not covered by medical insurance.

5. Other:

6. Order such other and further relief as the Court deems necessary, just, and equitable.

I, the Petitioner, being duly sworn under penalty of perjury, state that I have read the above information, and I believe it is true and correct.

Instructions for Completing the Required Disclosures

This form uses lots of charts to help you organize and share the required information.

The charts are called “schedules.”

You’ll see them on the pages after your signature and the Certificate of Service.

Fill in the schedules as completely as you can.

If you have no information to provide on a schedule, be sure to check the box labelled "Not Applicable" in the upper left-hand corner of the page. This will let the other party know that there is no information on that schedule that applies to you.

In several of the schedules, you'll be asked to list property, other assets, and debt in two different categories: marital (joint) and non-marital (separate).

- If property, assets, and debt are marital, they usually will be divided between you and your spouse during the divorce process.
- If property, assets, and debt are non-marital, they usually are not divided and instead remain with the owner.

It can be hard to know which property and debts are marital and which are not. Here are some guidelines to help you make your determinations:

The term "during the marriage" means the period starting on the wedding date and ending on the separation date.

Marital property and debt generally include assets (what you have) and liabilities (what you owe) obtained during the marriage for the benefit of the married couple and their shared family; it usually doesn't matter who has legal ownership or who makes payments. Property that either party got before the marriage may also be considered marital if both spouses treated it as their joint property during the marriage.

Gifts and inheritances received by one party are typically non-marital property, even if they were received during the marriage. But gifts or inheritances that benefited the couple, such as household appliances, may be considered marital even if they were given to only one party.

It is common for parties to disagree about what is marital and what is non-marital. You might find it helpful to read more information about divorce and property division on the Wyoming Judicial Branch website.

Important Note: Everything you write on these schedules will be carefully considered, but you might not get exactly the results you are seeking. The Judge will make the final decisions for your case, including deciding what is marital, how property and debt will be divided, and how custody will be granted.

Schedule A: Financial Assets. In this chart, you must list all financial assets owned individually (just you or the other party) or jointly (you, the other party, other people), including savings or checking accounts, stocks, bonds, cash equivalents, and other investments. Fill in each column with the required information. Note that you must include a detailed explanation for each asset you list as non-marital. (See attached Schedule A at the end of these instructions.)

Schedule B: Non-Financial Assets. In this chart, you must list all non-financial assets owned individually (just you or the other party) or jointly (you, the other party, other people). This will include houses, buildings, land, vehicles, household items such as furniture and jewelry, and any interests that you have in businesses. Fill in each column with the required information. Note that you must include a detailed explanation for each asset you list as non-marital. (See attached Schedule B at the end of these instructions.)

Schedule C: Debts. In this chart, you must list all debts that are owed individually (just you or the other party) or jointly (you, the other party, other people). Be sure to list all debts, including any that are just in the name of the other party. Fill in each column with the required information. Note that you must include a detailed explanation for each debt you list as non-marital. (See attached Schedule C at the end of these instructions.)

Schedule D: Safe Deposit Boxes. In this chart, you must list all safe deposit boxes that you or the other party have access to. Fill in each column with the required information. (See attached Schedule D at the end of these instructions.)

Schedule E: Employment. In this chart, you will provide information about your employment, pay, and benefits. Include jobs where you are employed by others, gig work, and self-employment. Fill in each column with the required information. It will be helpful to have your recent pay stubs (also known as “pay advice”) with you when you complete this chart. (See attached Schedule E at the end of these instructions.)

Schedule F: Other Income. In this chart, you must list all other income that you receive. Fill in each column with the required information. (See attached Schedule F at the end of these instructions.)

Schedule G: Retirement Accounts and Other Investment Accounts. In this chart, you must list all your retirement and investment accounts. This will include 401Ks, IRAs, and pension plans. Fill in each column with the required information. (See attached Schedule G at the end of these instructions.)

Schedule H: Custody. If you want primary custody of your children, you must provide facts that show you would be the better party to have custody. Fill in each section with the required information. If you are requesting a new custody arrangement, you must also provide the facts that show there has been a material change in circumstances (that means that something has changed and the change matters); attach documents that show this change. (See attached Schedule H at the end of these instructions.)

Important Note: You are required to update, correct, and add to the information in these schedules so the other party has complete and accurate information. This is what the law says:

Supplementation of disclosures and responses. Wyoming Rules of Civil Procedure 26(e)(1): A party who has made a disclosure or responded to a request for discovery with a disclosure or response is under a duty to supplement or correct the disclosure or response to include information thereafter acquired, if ordered by the court or in the following circumstances:

A party is under a duty to supplement, at appropriate intervals, its disclosures if the party learns that in some material respect the information disclosed is incomplete or incorrect and if the additional or corrective information has not otherwise been made known to the other parties during the discovery process or in writing.

AFFIDAVIT OF IMPUTED INCOME

You might choose or need to file this form if:

- The other party did not give you a Confidential Financial Affidavit, OR
- You think the other party did not correctly or accurately report their income, OR
- You can show that the other party could earn more money than they do right now.

Information About You

1. My name is _____.

2. Mark only one:

- ☐ I am the Plaintiff/Petitioner in this case.
- ☐ I am the Defendant/Respondent in this case.

Why Are You Filing This Form?

This form is usually not required, but you might choose to file it anyway. In this part, you will tell the Court why you are filing this form. Mark all that apply.

- 3. ☐ The Court ordered me to file this form.
- 4. ☐ The other party has not given me a Confidential Financial Affidavit.
- 5. ☐ I can't get a Confidential Financial Affidavit from the other party because _____
- 6. ☐ The amount of income the other party reported is not correct (it is wrong or untrue).

This is information for Section 7.

The Court may consider whether the other party is “voluntarily unemployed” or “voluntarily underemployed.” This means the other party could earn more money, but they made choices that cause them to earn less than they could. For example, the other party has the ability to work, but chose to quit their job, chose to work fewer hours, or chose a lower-paying job. You can read the gray box at Section 18, below, for information on how to estimate how much the other party could earn.

If you think the other party is voluntarily unemployed or voluntarily underemployed, check the box for Section 7.

- 7. ☐ I want to show the Court that the other party is able to earn more money.

Information About the Other Party's Work History and Education

It's important for the Court to understand the other party's ability to earn money. In Section 8, you will describe the other party's work history (for example, if the other party changes jobs a lot or has worked for one company for many years).

Section 9 might or might not apply to your situation. If the other party has education or training that qualifies them for certain kinds of work (for example, an electrician's license), you will check the box for Section 9 and list the education or training on the blank lines.

- 8. This is what I know about the other party's work history: _____

- 9. ☐ The other party has advanced education and professional training.

This is a list of the other party's degrees, certifications, and professional trainings:

Information About the Other Party's Income

It's important for the Court to understand how much money the other party earns and receives. There are a lot of sections in this part. Fill them out as completely as you can.

10. This is what I know about the other party's income from work for the last two years: _____

11. This is what I know about the other party's income from other sources (not work) for the last two years: _____

12. ☐ I don't know how much income the other party has had this year.

If you have check stubs, bank statements, or other documents that show income the other party received, attach copies of those papers to this Affidavit.

13. ☐ I have attached copies of all the income tax returns that I have from the last two years. They show how much money the other party earned.

14. ☐ I don't have income tax returns that show how much money the other party earned.

15. ☐ I have attached copies of other information about the other party's income.

If you know how much money the other party earns at their current or recent jobs, check the box for Section 16 and fill in one chart for each job. Do this for each job the other party works at now and for each job they had in the last two years.

In each chart:

- Check a box to show whether this is a current job or a recent job.
- Write where the other party works.
- Write how much the other party gets paid.
- Then check the correct box to show how often they get paid that amount.
- If the other party is self-employed at the job, check the box.

16. ☐ I know how much the other party gets paid now or got paid at jobs they had during the past two years.

Job 1		Current Job		Recent Job (within the last two years)
The other party works (or worked) at
The other party gets paid (or used to get paid) $

☐ I am attaching additional pages because the other party has more than 3 current or recent jobs.

In Section 17, you will write the total amount of money that you think the other party gets every month. Include all income the other party earns and receives.

“Income” means payment for work, and also includes payments like:

- tips,
- commissions,
- bonuses,
- disability benefits,
- annuity and retirement benefits,
- worker’s comp,
- unemployment.

- This does not include payment for overtime worked unless you can show the Court that the overtime earnings are likely to continue consistently based on the overtime received during the past 24 months.
- This does not include SSI, SNAP, or POWER (Personal Opportunities With Employment Responsibilities) payments.

You will need to write in the party’s monthly income.

You might need to do some math to figure out this number.

If the other party gets money every week:

Multiply the weekly amount by 52 and divide by 12.

If the other party gets money every two weeks:

Multiply the bi-weekly amount by 26 and divide by 12.

If the other party gets money twice each month (on certain days each month):

Multiply the semi-monthly amount by 24 and divide by 12.

If the other party gets money every year:

Divide the yearly amount by 12.

17. I believe the other party’s total income is approximately $_____ every month.

In Section 18, you will tell the Court the amount of money that you believe should be used to calculate child support.

- If you believe the other party currently has as much income as they can, you will check the first box and write the same number you wrote in Section 17.
- If you believe the other party currently has less income than they are capable of having, you will check the second box and write the potential (possible) income. You will use this option if you think the other party is voluntarily unemployed or voluntarily underemployed.

You might be able to estimate how much the other party could earn. If you have information about the other party's previous or current employment, you may be able to learn about potential income by visiting the US Department of Labor website at <http://www.bls.gov/bls/blswage.htm>. If you use any documents to estimate potential income, remember to attach those documents to this Affidavit when you file it.

The last blank line in Section 18 is for the net income.

“Net income” means how much money is left after certain items have been subtracted. (The subtracted items are called “deductions.”) In order to calculate net income, these items are subtracted:

- personal income taxes,
- social security deductions,
- cost of dependent health care coverage for all dependent children,
- current payments that are actually being made under preexisting support orders for support of other children; do not deduct payments for back child support (arrearages),
- other court-ordered support obligations currently being paid,
- mandatory pension deductions.

You might not know exactly how much to deduct to figure out the net income.

If you have to guess, the Court will expect you to do your best to make a fair and honest guess.

18. Check only one.

☐ I believe the other party's current monthly income of $_____ is a reasonable amount for the other party to earn.

OR

☐ Because of the other party's current income, past income, work history, education, and training, I believe the other party has the ability to earn $_____ every month.

After deductions (from the list above), a net income of $_____ every month is a fair and reasonable estimate.

19. The net income stated in Section 18 should be used to calculate child support under the presumptive child support guidelines or to deviate from the presumptive child support amount.

I hereby swear or affirm, under penalty of perjury, that the information in this Affidavit is correct and complete to the best of my knowledge.

"Self-support reserve" means the current poverty line for one (1) person as specified by the poverty guidelines updated periodically in the Federal Register by the United States department of health and human services under the authority of 42 U.S.C. 9902(2). See Table D below.

NOTE: If the custody of the children is shared or split as defined under Wyo. Stat. § 20-2-304 (c) and (d) other formulas apply. If "split" (meaning each parent has physical custody of at least one (1) child), the amount shall be allocated to each parent based upon the number of those children in the physical custody of that parent (see Table C on page 3). If this is the custodial arrangement, support may be computed as follows assuming all other statutory provisions apply.

D. SELF-SUPPORT RESERVE COMPUTATION: Wyo. Stat. § 20-2-304 (f) provides for special computation of support when the difference between the obligor's net income and the self-support reserve is less than the support obligation as calculated using the support tables for presumptive support on page 1. In such cases, the support should be computed as follows:

5) If you want the court reporter to record a specific matter during a hearing, you must request it as soon as possible, but at least three working days before the hearing. You can do this by calling, emailing, or sending a written request to the court reporter. If you send a request by mail, it must reach the court reporter no later than three working days before the hearing. The Clerk of District Court can tell you which court reporter to contact. The Court won't waive the three-day notice requirement. This notice rule applies to all civil matters, including jury trials. If a hearing isn't recorded by a court reporter, there won't be a transcript available. It's challenging to appeal the Judge's decision without a transcript of everything said during the trial. This rule is based on Rule 904 of the Uniform Rules of the District Courts of the State of Wyoming.

ORDER SETTING CHILD SUPPORT MODIFICATION TRIAL AND REQUIRING PRETRIAL STATEMENTS

THIS MATTER having come before the Court upon the ☐ Petitioner's OR ☐ Respondent's Request for Setting, and the Court being generally advised in the premises;

IT IS HEREBY ORDERED that a trial of the above matter is hereby scheduled for Courtroom Number ____ of the _____ County Courthouse, _____, Wyoming on the ____ day of _____, 20__ at _____ ☐ AM/☐ PM. ____ days ____ hours ____ minutes has been set aside for the trial of this matter.

IT IS FURTHER ORDERED that each party shall file and serve a sworn statement on the opposing party or their attorney at least 5 days before the trial, or as required in the scheduling order. This statement should include all the facts, to the best of their knowledge and belief, listed in Section "A" of the attached information list. Additionally, the party's attorney, if they have one, should provide a statement about the client’s position and any evidence, as outlined in Section “B.” By providing this information, the goal is to simplify the issues, prevent surprises, and reduce unnecessary evidence during the trial. The information can be presented as a narrative but must cover all the points mentioned in this order. To avoid repetition, the parties or their attorneys can submit a joint statement for items not in dispute.

Important Information about Court Reporters

A court reporter is a person who makes a transcript (official written record) of everything that is said during a trial or hearing. If you know that you want (or think you might want) a transcript of your trial or hearing, you must arrange for the court reporter to be there.

You must contact the court reporter at least three working-days before your trial or hearing to make these arrangements. (You can learn more by reading Rule 904 of the Wyoming Uniform Rules for District Court.)

Do You Need a Reporter?

There may be many reasons to choose to have a court reporter at your trial or hearing. One important thing to consider is that it’s very difficult to appeal a judge’s decision if you do not have a transcript of the trial. That means: If the judge makes decisions you believe are incorrect, and you want another Court to look at whether the decisions were fair decisions, it will be very helpful to have a transcript. If you don’t arrange for a court reporter to record the trial or hearing, there will be no transcript.

If you want to arrange for a court reporter, the Clerk of District Court can tell you which court reporter to contact.

If the case gets resolved, the Court won't make any changes to the schedule until the settlement is put into writing and presented to the Court as a written agreement. The trial date will not be postponed or canceled based on phone calls.

This includes updating their disclosures as ordered by the Court or whenever they find out that something important in the information they provided is missing or wrong, and if they haven't already told the other parties during the discovery process or in writing.
